

Statutes of the International Society of Forensic Radiology and Imaging (ISFRI)

I. Denomination, Seat and Goals

Article 1 Legal Designation: an association is formed according to article 60 - 79 of the Swiss Civil Code (Schweizerisches Zivilgesetzbuch, ZGB) and by the present clauses and under the name International Society of Forensic Radiology and Imaging (ISFRI), hereafter called the Society.

Article 2 Seat

The seat of the Society is Zürich, Switzerland (ZH), and the Laws of Switzerland shall apply to the conduct of its legal and contractual activities.

Article 3 Aims & Objectives

1 The aim of the Society is to promote best practice in forensic radiology and imaging through education and training, research, communication by uniting physicians (in particular radiologists and forensic pathologists), engineers, radiographers, scientists and researchers who are active in the field of forensic radiology and imaging. Specific objectives of the Society are to:

- a. Strengthen and develop the field of forensic radiology and imaging*
- b. Promote best practice in forensic radiology and imaging through communication and cooperation*
- c. Promote education and specialization in the field of forensic radiology and imaging*
- d. Encourage and develop research programs in forensic radiology and imaging*
- e. Establish quality standards and recommendations for forensic radiology and imaging*
- f. Establish processes for the regulation and certification of forensic radiology and associated imaging sciences*
- g. Provide a journal for the members of the society*

2 In the pursuance of these aims and objectives, the Society may engage in contracts of employment and enter into other legal contracts.

3 ISFRI is a non-profit society and does not follow any commercial purposes.

II. Members

Article 4 Members of the Society

1 Full Member

Any individual – regardless of his/her nationality or country of residence – may become a Full Member of the Society if his/her main or occasional occupation or his/her specific interest or any other activity of his/hers is related to forensic radiology and imaging, in particular:

- Physicians specialized in or specializing in the field of radiology*
- Physicians specialized in or specializing in the field of forensic medicine*
- Radiographers and trainees in radiography technology*
- Surveying engineers*
- Computer scientists*

2 Associate Member

The Society offers reciprocal Associate Membership to Full Members of the International Association of Forensic Radiographers (IAFR)

3 Institutional Member

Any legal entity (including non-profit and for profit organizations) – regardless of its nationality or country of residence – may become an Institutional Member of the Society if its main or occasional occupation or specific interest or any other activity of it is related to forensic radiology and imaging, in particular:

- National or International Radiologic Societies*
- National or International Societies of Forensic/Legal Medicine*

Each Institutional Member is represented in the Society by its President or a designated replacement.

4 Honorary Member

The Society may also confer Honorary Membership on individuals who in the opinion of the Board and General Assembly have made a significant contribution to the field of Forensic Radiology and Imaging. Honorary Members enjoy the same rights as Full Members but are exempted from membership fees.

Article 5 Acceptance

1 Interested individuals and legal entities can apply for membership in writing to the Secretary of the Society, who will submit the application for decision to the General Assembly.

2 By applying for membership the applicant accepts the statutes of the Society.

3 The Board informs the applicant about the decision of the General Assembly. An application may be rejected without giving any particular reasons. The decision of the General Assembly is final.

Article 6 Withdrawal

1 Any member may withdraw from the Society at any time by giving three months' written notice to the Secretary in writing.

2 Membership fees for the running year are not reimbursed.

Article 7 Exclusion

1 The Board may exclude any member

- in case the member jeopardizes the reputation or the interests of the Society

- in case of other important causes

2 Membership fees for the running year are not reimbursed.

3 Within 10 (ten) days after having received the decision, a member excluded by the Board may appeal against the exclusion in writing (including means of electronic communication) to the Chair of the Society. The appeal must be dealt with at the next General Assembly when a final decision regarding the disputed membership will be made.

Article 8 Expiration

Membership will expire automatically if the membership fee is not received 28 (twenty-eight) days following the issuing of the second demand note.

III. Organisation

Article 9 Organs

The organs of the Society are:

A. The General Assembly

B. The Board

C. The Auditors

III.A. General Assembly

Article 10 Meeting, convening
